

Sliding Adapter for Hasselblad H1

A new Sliding Adapter increasing our offer of solutions for high-resolution digital photography. The sliding adapter for Hasselblad H1 can be used on our Bicam and S5 micron cameras which are specifically designed for digital photography and on the most popular view cameras by means of our adapter plates. This means that Hasselblad H1 owners will be able to mount their H1 digital back on the Silvestri camera, just as on other view cameras sensibly extending the options of use of their digital back. The sliding adapter allows for the quick sliding from the viewing to the shooting position, keeping the digital back protected from dust and accidental damages and in place ready for immediate use. Robust construction in anodized aluminium, the sliding adapter guarantees precision and reliability in any working situation.
